

Caerleon PM

Working with established local agencies

Caerleon is a relatively small Meeting and we support the local homeless by working with other established agencies. Every quarter we make individual donations of tinned foods to Raven House Trust, a relatively small charity for the homeless in Newport. This charity feeds houses and cares for at least 1200 homeless people in the Newport area every year. We also make cash donations each quarter along with the food items.

In addition, each quarter we make individual donations of various food items and items of personal care for local, destitute asylum seekers. These items are taken to and distributed by a local church in Newport, Community House Presbyterian Church, Eton Road. Cash donations are also made along with these goods but these are taken to the Newport branch of the Welsh Refugee Council who distribute the funds accordingly.

We try to keep informed of the needs of the local homeless and have had a speaker who works with the asylum seekers to keep us abreast of their situation.
